

T. SAMUEL BROWNING IS NOW MAYOR, HAVING FORMALLY TAKEN OVER OFFICE AT NOON

T. Samuel Browning, member of a pioneer Ogdens family and experienced in civic affairs, now is "His Honor," Chief Executive—Mayor of Ogdens.

Mayor Browning entered upon his new duties as the municipality's first official at high noon today. The ceremonies were short, consisting merely of calling the roll and taking an adjournment.

In addition to Commissioners M. L. Jones and Chris Flygare, the entire list of spectators that observed the formalities which started Ogdens upon a new city administration included Postmaster W. W. Browning, J. F. Critchlow, prospective city recorder, Deputy Sheriff R. H. Soule and two newspaper men. The session was brief and there was an entire absence of the restraint which rumors in circulation relative to the lack of absolute harmony and unity between the mayor and the commissioners might have been expected to develop.

At the regular meeting tonight the formal assignment of departments will be made. This will be by the introduction of a resolution stipulating a list of departments over which each of the commissioners will have direct charge and for the conduct of which departments each commissioner will be held directly responsible. According to the best obtainable information, these departments will be assigned as follows:

Mayor Browning: Public affairs, finance and health.

Commissioner Jones: Public safety, parks and public property.

Commissioner Flygare: Streets, public improvements, water supply and water works.

This schedule was announced several weeks ago and, it is understood, nothing has taken place, there suggest that any change will be made. It is known that Mayor Browning will object to the division on the ground that he was elected upon the issue that he would have control of the public safety department. The commissioners, it is understood, will resist this charge by declaring that any changes in the public safety department at this time might be hazardous to the best interests of the city. There is no probability, it is stated, of the commissioners weakening.

Mayor Browning declined to discuss the situation today, stating that he may issue a statement tomorrow. At this time, however, he said, there is nothing to be added to what he already has stated. He also intimated that he had some matters to investigate before issuing any formal statement.

Changes Coming. In the event that Mayor Browning submits to the schedule of departments as now assigned, it is known that at least two appointments will be announced within a very short time. W. J. Critchlow will be named city recorder, it is definitely known, and W. H. Reeder will take charge of the legal department as city attorney. It also is intimated that Wallace Foulger is slated for city treasurer. These changes, if made will result, probably, in new minor appointments in each of these departments.

In connection with the other departments, those over which Commissioners Flygare and Jones will have direct control, no changes are anticipated. It is understood that these officials are convinced that the conduct of affairs already are in charge of competent department chiefs and that no changes are necessary.

There is a probability that the session tonight will attract a heavy list of spectators. There have been rumors that the meeting might not proceed as calmly and amicably as initial administration meetings sometimes start. There is nothing at this time, it is understood, to indicate that it will have spectacular parts—the line-up, apparently, stands two to one with the mayor in the minority.

PATRICK HANLEY, SAID TO BE 102 YEARS OF AGE, DIES AFTER AN ILLNESS EXTENDING OVER A YEAR

Patrick Hanley, perhaps the oldest man in northern Utah, whose sturdy figure has been a common sight on Ogdens' streets for several years, died this morning at 9:15 o'clock, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alice Saville, 246 Grant avenue. He had been ill for the past year although not confined strictly to his home. Mr. Hanley was probably 102 years of age, but the exact date of his birth is unknown. He is said to have been 96 years of age in 1912 when an application for soldiers' homestead rights were made for him.

Mr. Hanley was born in Ireland and came to America when a young man. He had made his home in Ogdens since 1905. He is survived by four sons, Thomas Hanley, John Hanley, Daniel Hanley and William Hanley, and his daughter, Mrs. Saville. He was of the Catholic faith.

Mr. Hanley had been a farmer in Ireland and followed the same vocation in America, having operated a farm in Clark county, Neb.

The time for the funeral has not been decided upon. The body is at the Kirkendall chapel.

"THE BIRD OF PARADISE" AT ORPHEUM SUNDAY

"The Bird of Paradise," Richard Walton Tully's super-melodrama of fair Hawaii, is announced for presentation at the Orpheum theater, Sunday, January 13. Despite it is now in its seventh year, there suggest that of waning interest with the theater-going public. Each year a new face has appeared in the leading role. This season the part of Luana, the little Hawaiian princess, is to be enacted by Miss Celeste Scudder, one of the youngest leading women to portray this famous role. Miss Scudder gained recognition last season by her clever interpretation of the role of Frailty in "Experience," which won for her the much coveted part in which she will be seen in "The Bird of Paradise."

The popularity of this attraction is enhanced by the weird and beautiful music blended into the play by the five Hawaiian singers, whose singing is one of the fascinating charms of the drama.—Advertisement.

NORTH OGDEN NOTES

James S. Carver, national grocers' committeeman for the west on food conservation, addressed yesterday morning the representative men and women of this place in Sunday school parents' class, dealing with phases of food conservation and making a very favorable impression with the people along these lines.

The members of the thirty-eight quorum of seventy, composed of members of this and the Pleasant View wards, had a very successful time in this place yesterday, occupying the forenoon and afternoon in annual session, the forenoon being taken up principally with the annual business of the quorum. In the afternoon, an open session was held, with Elder Rulon S. Wells of the first council of seventy in attendance, besides a number of prominent stake and local authorities. Bishop Frederick Barker presided, President John W. Gibson conducting. The opening prayer was offered by Patriarch James Ward and the closing one by John Q. Blaylock, a member of the presidency. The music was furnished by the seventies in concert, due and quartet singing, and talks were made by Gilbert Randall on "Faith," by Albert Storey on "Repentance," and by David Shupe on "Baptism." Each one was delivered in a masterly way, followed with a most excellent discourse on general principles by President Rulon S. Wells of the first council of seventy.

The quorum is one of the oldest in the church, organized over 64 years ago, and many features have occurred all along the line of its history. It was organized December 29, 1853, by President Joseph Young in a small log house on a corner now occupied by William E. Ellis with a modern residence. Benjamin F. Cummings and David Garner were appointed presidents, pending a more complete organization. May 28, 1854, Martin Harris became secretary. September 29, 1854, Erastus Bingham became the third member of the council. November 12, 1854, Enoch Burns, Bryan W. Nolan, P. G. Taylor became fourth, fifth and sixth members of the council, and December 25, 1855, Henry Grow became the seventh president, thus completing the first organization, from which nucleus wonderful and far-reaching benefits have evolved, carrying the message of "Mormonism" to nearly all the islands of Europe and many of the Pacific Isles, including for off Japan and to nearly every state of our own nation and in that length of time 23 of our most prominent men have occupied the position of president, namely, James Barker, Simon Halverson, Walter W. Crane, Robert G. Berrett, John T. Hickenlooper, John W. Gibson, Wiley G. Cragun, George J. Linford, David Johns, William Barker, Benjamin F. Blaylock, Reuben T. Rhee, David E. Randall, Rufus Rhee, George E. Brown, Edmund Cragun, John Q. Blaylock, Arthur G. Berrett, Henry L. Jensen, Alma H. Rogers, William M. Wade, William A. Montgomery and Mormon Cragun.

Next Wednesday Arlie S. Campbell and Ephraim Storey, sons respectively of Mr. and Mrs. Scott W. Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. James Storey, are to depart to missions in the United States. Baptismal service will be held here next Sunday. The rite, it is expected, will be performed in the new font in the ward chapel, now about completed.

Rockefeller draws check for millions.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Receipts of a check for $5,500,000 from John D. Rockefeller to enable the Rockefeller foundation to meet increasing demands for its various forms of war work without having to make further inroads on its principal funds was announced here today by President George Vincent of the foundation.

UNION STOCKYARDS HANDLES OVER HALF MILLION HEAD OF LIVESTOCK IN NINE MONTHS

Handling of 593,667 head of livestock in the first nine months of its existence was the record of the Union Stockyards of Ogdens, according to an announcement made today by L. F. Whitlock, general manager of the company. Most of this livestock was from Utah, Idaho and Nevada but there were also considerable shipments from other western states including Wyoming, Colorado, Montana, Washington, Oregon and California.

The receipts of cattle during the period from April to January 1 were 64,533 and the hogs received numbered 55,933. The stockyards handled 362,710 sheep and 25,481 horses. The latter were largely brought to Ogdens for government inspection, the Ogdens Horse Sales company handling many animals for the armies.

Computed in number of carloads, the shipments received at the Ogdens yards showed a total of 5783 carloads, or approximately enough for 193 solid train-

AMERICAN SECURES RIGHTS TO FORMULA FOR GAS BANQUET ON SATURDAY NIGHT BY A BIG OGDEN CONCERN

An American now has the privilege to manufacture a gas formula for the stomach, indigestion, and sick headaches. This is something entirely new in this country, and has met with wonderful results in Europe. It is a flat white powder and as soon as taken a cooling sensation in the stomach is felt, due to the antacid properties of this compound. This is the only mixture that absorbs the gas as soon as taken. Doctors proclaim it the best yet, as it gives quick results and that is what they must have. Purchase about 4 oz. of this powder and try it out. If it does not give results take it back and get your money. It is known as CAYE'S STOMACH POWDER. —Advertisement.

MORGAN BOYS BEAT STANDARD CARRIERS

In a fast and well-played game, the Standard carriers lost their first game to the North Morgan team at Morgan, Saturday night, by a score of 35 to 23. It was North Morgan's second game this season and the carriers' first game.

The game was all action from whistle and, although on the long end of the score, the Morgan lads could not understand how "those little pests" could and would persist in being right where the ball was all the time. North Morgan claims the fastest team in Morgan, having defeated the South Morgan team, which defeated the Morgan High school team. Taking into consideration that this was the Standard's first game and that the Standard boys are juniors and the Morgan boys seniors, it leaves the carriers in a very bright light, and there is much hope that they will walk away with the junior championship this year. The Morgan boys have a fast and hard-playing team and it will mean battle for any team that defeats them. There were very few fouls throughout the entire game, it being a clean game from start to finish. The boys were treated royally by the Morgan team and Mr. Eddington, manager of the team.

However, the boys received poor treatment at the hands of the proprietor of the Morgan hotel, where the boys were obliged to stay all night. This in no way should reflect on the Morgan team, as efforts were made to make arrangements at the other hotel in Morgan, but it was over-crowded and Mr. Eddington had no other choice than to use the Morgan hotel. The boys were registering at the hotel when the proprietor of the place began to give them a tongue-lashing that would make a criminal squirm. Just what his idea was no one knows but the chances are it's a perpetual pessimism possessed by him. After the basketball game and dance, the carriers challenged the Morgan team to a return game. The challenge was accepted and the game will be played either at Ogdens on Monday, the 14th, or at Morgan, Saturday, the 19th.

AUXILIARY CHAPTER OF LABOR ALLIANCE

Preparations are in progress for the immediate founding of an auxiliary chapter of the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy in Ogdens. Several preliminary meetings have been held and formal organization will be effected within the next ten days, or as quickly as proper instructions and data are received from New York City. "This organization is patriotic in inception and was formed for the sole purpose of concentrating labor in forceful co-operation with the government in its fight against kaiserism for universal freedom," said William Pigott, secretary of the A. L. D. W. C. W. with offices at 222 Washington, and who is taking a leading part in organizing the Ogdens chapter. "We have had several meetings and the prospects for immediate organization are good. We now are waiting for certain advice from New York."

The declaration of principles of the association were adopted unanimously at the first national conference in Minneapolis, Sept. 5-7, this year. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and other recognized labor leaders affiliate. Auxiliary chapters have been founded throughout the United States and are doing valiant service in suppressing any unnecessary labor agitation or disturbance which might embarrass the United States in its prosecution of the war against civilization's Arch-enemy—the kaiser. It is believed that the Ogdens chapter can state with a membership totaling hundreds. The recent Red Cross drive has developed a patriotic enthusiasm and the Ogdens workingmen has

ONE HUNDRED FIFTY EXPECTED TO BE AT BANQUET

Preparations for the annual convention of the Manufacturers Association of Utah which will be held in Salt Lake on Wednesday and Ogdens on Thursday have been practically completed. Members of the association and others interested in its work are being urged to attend these sessions because of the importance of topics that will be discussed. At Salt Lake there will be addresses by W. W. Armstrong, state food administrator, and President Whitsoe of the state university.

The chief speaker of the Ogdens meetings will be Dr. E. G. Peterson of the Utah Agricultural college. Other speakers will be President George S. McAllister of the association, J. A. Reeves of the Oregon Short Line, J. W. Watson of the department of agriculture, Lucian A. Ray of the Utah Cereal Food company, J. B. Whitehill of the International Smelting company, Ashby S. Thatcher, John M. Hayes of the Utah Copper company and Mayor T. Samuel Browning of Ogdens. Mayor Browning will give the welcome to the visitors.

Appointment of a reception committee for the banquet on Thursday evening at the Weber club was announced this morning. Its members are Mrs. George W. Goddard, Mrs. Lucian A. Ray, Mr. Gage Rodman, Mrs. Joseph Scowcroft, Jr., and Mrs. W. E. Zuppann.

About 150 persons are expected to attend the banquet, this number including Ogdens, Salt Lake, Logan and Provo manufacturers and their wives, also the heads of departments of various manufacturing institutions.

The program for the convention in the two cities follows: Registration of members at the Hotel Utah at 2 p. m.; address by the president, George S. McAllister; report by the secretary, A. C. Rees; treasurer's report; reports of committees; report of special committee on change in by-laws of the association; election of five directors for three-year terms; announcement of results; adjournment.

Commercial club, 8 p. m.—Address, "The School of Commerce and Its Relation to Industries," Dr. John A. Whitsoe, University of Utah; address, "What the Government Asks of the Manufacturers," W. W. Armstrong, food and fuel administrator for Utah; complimentary smoker and luncheon, Weber club, Ogdens, January 10, 2 p. m.—Opening address by the president, George S. McAllister; "How the War Has Affected Manufacturing Industries"—"Transportation," J. A. Reeves, Oregon Short Line; "Labor," J. W. Watson, Utah Agricultural college; "Foodstuffs," Lucian A. Hall, Utah Packing company; "Income Taxes and Excess Profits," John M. Hayes, Utah Copper company; discussion; adjournment.

Weber club, 6:30 p. m.—Informal banquet; address of welcome, Mayor T. Samuel Browning; response, E. H. Eardley; address, "The Manufacturer—His Present and Immediate Task," Dr. E. G. Peterson, president of Utah Agricultural college.

RAID MADE ON PARIS HOTEL AND LIQUOR CONFISCATED

In a well-executed raid Saturday night on the Paris hotel, 2543 Wall avenue, owned by Joe Laucirica, Sheriff Peterson and five deputies found and confiscated a large quantity of booze, the second supply to be taken from the same place since Utah went dry. Laucirica was released this morning from custody upon payment of a $500 bond. With the sheriff in the raid were deputies Sheriff Ray West, R. H. Wootton, R. H. Soule, Julius Geiger and William Brown, and nearly two and one-half hours were consumed in searching the place before the liquor was located. The supply included two cases of whiskey, a quart of beer, a quart of vermouth, a pint of brandy, a quart of Angelica wine and six and one-half extra quarts of whiskey.

The raid was effected through well-laid plans of the sheriff and his deputies. At 7:30 o'clock Saturday night it was decided to raid the hotel and the officers, after a very minute search, were rewarded by finding the supply of liquor. The matter was withheld from the public until today, when the filing of the search and seizure warrant issued to Deputy Dick Wootton told the story.

The person who furnished the information to the sheriff was arrested last week. The man stoutly denied having bought booze at Laucirica's at first but after a four-hour sweating process, confessed to this and gave the officers other valuable information. He said he had purchased a quart bottle of whiskey at the Paris and had paid $4 for it. He said he had then resold it for $6 and had been in the way of working up quite a neat business when apprehended.

an untarnished record for adherence to the original principles of democracy and is in complete sympathy with America's war aims.

Thatcher of 2602 Adams avenue, and prominent in musical circles of Ogdens before going to Huntington, where Mrs. Sooy is engaged as cellist in one of the largest theaters. One of the Huntington papers gives Mrs. Sooy especial mention and praise in its report of the oratorio.

ENTERTAIN AT DANCING PARTY

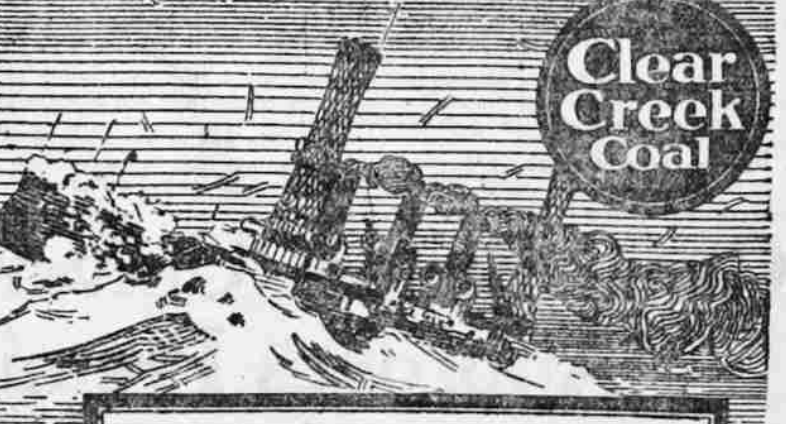

Thursday evening the Misses Helen Cole, Gail and Maud Healy gave a dancing party to their friends in the attractive ball room in the New Healy hotel. The affair was one of the prettiest given since the dancing season began. The young hostesses were complimented many times by the guests who were bidden to dance from 9 until 12 o'clock. The time was all too short and they were given another hour in which to trip the light fantastic.

Neatly arranged programs with the initials M. G. H. with cards and pencils of white and blue with numbers arranged to please all, were passed to each guest upon entering the ball room by Miss Helen Rounds of Boise, Ida., and Miss Mary Healy. Delicious fruit punch was served throughout the evening and each and every guest was made to feel at home as on former affairs given in this beautifully appointed hall. The invited guests numbered nearly seventy and there were very few regrets. The guests were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Jewkes, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cahill, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Egan, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smyth, Mr. and Mrs. J. C.
